

In the first game of a scheduled Saturday afternoon doubleheader, St. Louis and Pittsburgh are tied 0-0 with the visiting Cardinals at bat in top of the sixth inning when a heavy rain begins to fall ... after a one hour delay, the rain subsides and then stops all together ... at this point, umpires Bill Bryan and Al Orth decide to call the first game a 0-0 tie, and order the second game to be started, which the Cardinals win 5-3.

The state champion Oregon State Aggies leave Corvallis for a three-game series at Washington State to decide the conference title ... Aggie coach and captain Roy Goble expresses concern that because of "unfavorable weather" his team has been forced to practice indoors ... Goble's concerns prove valid as the Inland Empire nine wins both of the games played 4-2 and 3-2.

Herschel Stanton, a two-year starter at shortstop for Baylor, is named as the Bear's captain for the 1916 season while third baseman Dudley Hutchinson is accorded the same honor at Hendrix College.

Beardon (Texas) celebrates its new ball park, with seating for 200, by sweeping a doubleheader from visiting Rison 7-1 and 14-3.

The Shreveport Gassers play a man short when pitcher George Moran, acquired from the Little Rock Travelers, where he is 2-2, refuses to report and leaves for Chicago ... re-signed after being released two weeks earlier, Beaumont Oiler left fielder and former major leaguer Jimmy Clarke goes 0-4 in an 8-1 loss to visiting San Antonio.

And finally, the Pittsburgh-Buffalo Mining Company baseball team is ready to open the season:
