LANCASTER, PA.

For the second time in four years, the Lancaster Red Roses capture the Interstate (B) League title with a 6-to-5 come from behind victory over the York White Roses in a deciding game seven that features a rally by the home team, air raid sirens, a 20-minute practice blackout (this is 1943) and a stolen base.

Played before a Interstate League record crowd of 7,267, the game is delayed 20 minutes in the fourth inning when the Lancaster's air raid sirens sound and darkness envelopes the field. When the lights come back on, the umpires discover that during the blackout second base had been stolen.

Lancaster's 17-year-old shortstop Billy DeMars, who hit a meager .232 in 21 regular season games, keys the comeback with a team-high three RBIs, including the go-ahead RBI in the sixth inning. Twenty-year-old Red Rose third baseman George Kell chips in with a pair of RBIs on two hits.
